PREFACE

In 1968 I decided to copy and preserve the cemetery records of Dunklin County. Since then numerous "hours of love" have gone into copying, typing, compiling, and proofreading. I have also used the local funeral home records, and the 1883 - 1885 Register of Deaths for Dunklin County. Copyed by my sister-in-law Ophelia Wade. All of these records contain valuable data about many of our pioneer families.

In some places you will find one person listed more than once, the reason for this is that I have found them in the cemetery, funeral home and/or death register records.

In compiling these records every effort has been made to assure that they are correct. However I'm quite sure there are mistakes. If you find one or if you know of someone buried in one of these cemeteries and not listed in this book, please take the time to send their names, the date of their death and their age at death to me. I will print all data received in my last volume of inscriptions.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

My thanks and appreciation to my children; Mark, David, Rhonda, and Luke, for their help and patience in helping me collect and compile these records.

My thanks, to my husband for his loving understanding of my desire to preserve the data contained in these volums.

My thanks, to my sister-in-law Ophelis Wade and my sister Patsy Hughes, for their help and encouragement.

****

How silent lie the unburdened dead; How sadly quite and still. Their lives are spent; Their dreams fullfilled or forgotten. Man begins to die the moment he is born. What a wretched world this would be without the prospect of death. Death is a merciful means of getting rid of the physical body which has housed our spirit on earth.

LOYD CEMETERY

Loyd is located about 1½ miles West of Holcomb in Dunklin County - Holcomb Township - Section 12 - Range 9E. This Cemetery is on a small sand hill with brier bushes growing on the South and West sides. The bushes qre to aid against wind erosion. This cemetery is well kept for an old cemetery. However the brier bushes have grown wild, and there are several stones in the brier patches, also the lots with iron fences are grown up with brier bushes. Many of the old stones have been buried in the sand, and some are so weather worn the can't be read. I recorded the old part in Apr. 1, 1969 and the new section in Apr. 1972.

GLASSCOCK CEMETERY

This cemetery is located in Dunklin County - Independence Township - Section 1 - Range 9E. Glasscock cemetery is just East of the Walnut Grove Church and South and East of where the first Walnut Grove School House set. My Grandmother, Mrs. Mae Ferrell Millhouse, attended school there. She remembers walking to the cemetery on Memorial Day each year to decorate the grave of a Revolutionary Soldier, with flowers. She thinks he was a Corporal or Captain and that his name was Glasscock. She has also told me that he had a large stone, but I didn't find one. (Mae Ferrell Millhouse, b. Jan. 1, 1888 Dunklin Co.) There was evidence of about 20 graves, but most of the markers had been destroyed.

Langdon Cemetery

Langdon Cemetery is located in Dunklin County - Clay Township - Section 21 - Range 9E. This area is called Cotton Plant. In 1847 Mr. E. J. Langdon entered the mercantile business here, locating his store near the middle of the north half of the southeast quarter of Section 16. A few years later he moved his stock of goods to its final location in the southeast quater of Section 21. The land upon which the store was build was bought from John Cude, who had obtained it by buying scrip from Private Thomas I. David of Captain Blakemore's Company, First Regiment, Tennessee Volunteers, whitch presumably was involved in the Mexican war.
There are 24 marked graves in the cemetery and several unmarked graves on the west side of it. One of the unmarked graves is that of Dr. George Lindemood, who died around 1880, probably a middle-aged man. He was a brother-in-law of Judge E. J. Langdon.
There will be one more person buried in this cemetery, and that is Miss. Louise Blanche Langdon. She was born in 1889.
Edwin James Langdon, was born in Middlebury, Vermont, Aug. 7, 1819 son of Hiram & Mary "Polly" Dowd Langdon, both of Scotch descent. On June 22, 1847 he married Sarah Ann Americus Elizabeth Jane Glasscock, who came from near Jackson, Mo., she was of Scotch-Irish descent, being the daughter of Robert L. & Elizabeth Sullinger Glasscock. E. J. & Sarah had 9 childred, 5 of them surviving to adulthood. They were; Truman Curtis, William Hayden, Charles Van Meter, Albert Jewett, & Hettie Douglass.

Horner Cemetery

Recorded in May 1972, this cemetery is located in Dunklin County - Clay Township - Section 5 - Range 9E.
In the Dunklin County Historical Society Book Vol. I there is an artical by Rev. L. M. Lemonds that states, "In February 1832 Thomas Neel and his wife's father, Mr. Ray came to this county. Mr. Ray was killed, by being thrown from his cart, and was the first person buried at the old Horner burying grown." Also in Vol. I Mrs. Hettie H. Bradley tells about William H. Horner (who I beleve is burried in the Horner cemetery although I could not find a stone for him.) Mr. Horner was born in Tenn. in 1795, he build the first house in Hornersville in 1832, laid out and established the town of Hornesville in 1840. Mrs. Bradley also talks about the Brannums. "The Brannums and Horners came to Hornesville and vicinity in the early 1830s. Michael Brannum was born is South Carolina in 1777. When he came here his family consised of his wife, Aquilla, his son, Tecumseh, named for the famous Indian chief of Ohio, who became a General in the English Army. His daughter, Victorine, sometimes given as Victoria, who became the wife of John Z. Horner, who was born in Tenn. in 1821. Victoria Horner Brannum was born at Little Prairie (now Caruthersville) Mo. Jan. 7, 1817 died in Hornesville July 7, 1916 and is buried at the Horner graveyard." There are many unmarked graves in this cemetery.

****

REMEMBER, CHRISTIAN SOUL,

THAT THOU HAST THIS DAY,

AND EVERY DAY OF THY LIFE;

God to glorify.

Jesus to imitate.

A soul to save.

A body to mortify.

Sins to repent of.

Virtues to acquire.

Hell to avoid.

Heaven to gain.

Eternity to prepare for.

Time to profit by.

Neighbors to edify.

The world to despise.

Devils to combat.

Passions to subdue.

Death, perhaps, to suffer.

Judgment to undergo.
